Princess was a shiny Eevee owned by a nice trainer. Her trainer often forgot about her. Princess hated that. One day Princess's trainer left Princess deep tied up into a tree in a forest. Princess was sad and angry. Her trainer abandoned her. Princess managed to get herself untied and found her trainer. Her trainer was playing with a Pikachu who replaced her. Princess got angry and her eyes turned black. Princess slashes the Pikachu and began to kill it. Her trainer was speechless and terrified. Princess looks at her trainer as blood dripped from her fur. "Never leave me or you die..." She told her trainer. Her trainer backed away quickly and began to run. Princess chased her trainer. She caught her trainer and stabbed him in the heart with her sharp and deadly claws. "You should've listened to me fool..." Princess said with a evil grin on her face. Princess snatched her trainer's crown off and had put it on her head. Princess walked away as if nothing happened. After that day... Princess was never seen again...
